Dublin y. 3. of y. 7. mo: 1648

Deare friend and well beloved in y^e fear of life I doerly breake thee, and salute thee with thy deare wife, son and daughter, and the rest of y^e family, and all friends who may desire to heare from mee, and of my safe & Quall at Ireland, I take shipping that evening that I departed with thee, we went downe to Blacke Rocks, and by thine till y^e 6. day morning and then we had a severe wind that day and was in y^e sight of Ireland in y^e evening, and I landed about 2. or 12 on y^e 7. day, where friends remained very gladly and said I am as if I had beene called thine being no fre-ind, in y^e town, and on y^e first day we had 2. very good meetings, and people as quiet and still as y^e had beene for some time before, and y^e after day was y^e wemens meeting, and I went amongst them, and y^e Lords power was with mee, and things opened in mee to y^e opening of thine understandings, and y^e wiser broken and much tendered, for thine was some range, Thomas Innes of Dublin had beene thine, with a fountaine testimonie in y^e meeting on y^e first day, and many being taken with him, hee afterwards, goes to some friends house, Justis finding Jo: story y^e all y^e had beene charged against him nothing could be proved but y^e wemens meeting being y^e second day after hee being in y^e town did not come at it, and y^e 3. day y^e mens meeting I went out of town, to wards willow and, I found y^e which is y^e best ground to sow but good, but I purpose y^e Lord will to get out of town this week after him this day is y^e mens meeting thine, and y^e fifth day is thine weekly meeting and after y^e I hope to get out of town things thine it shall well, all quiet and still, and I am very well every way blessed by y^e god of my-life for ever who is worthier over all heaven and earth from everlasting to everlasting god blessed for ever I rest assured and Br. according to measure
